

Tree hollows are animal homes

These are just 9 of the hundreds of Australian native animal species that use tree hollows (and loose bark) for nesting and shelter.

Black-headed Goanna

Australian Kestrel

Gould's Wattled Bat

Gilbert's Dunnart

Childrens Python

Western Pygmy-possum

Barn Owl

Echidna

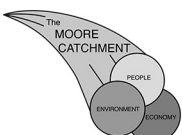

Spiny-tailed Skink

natural resource management program

ILUKA

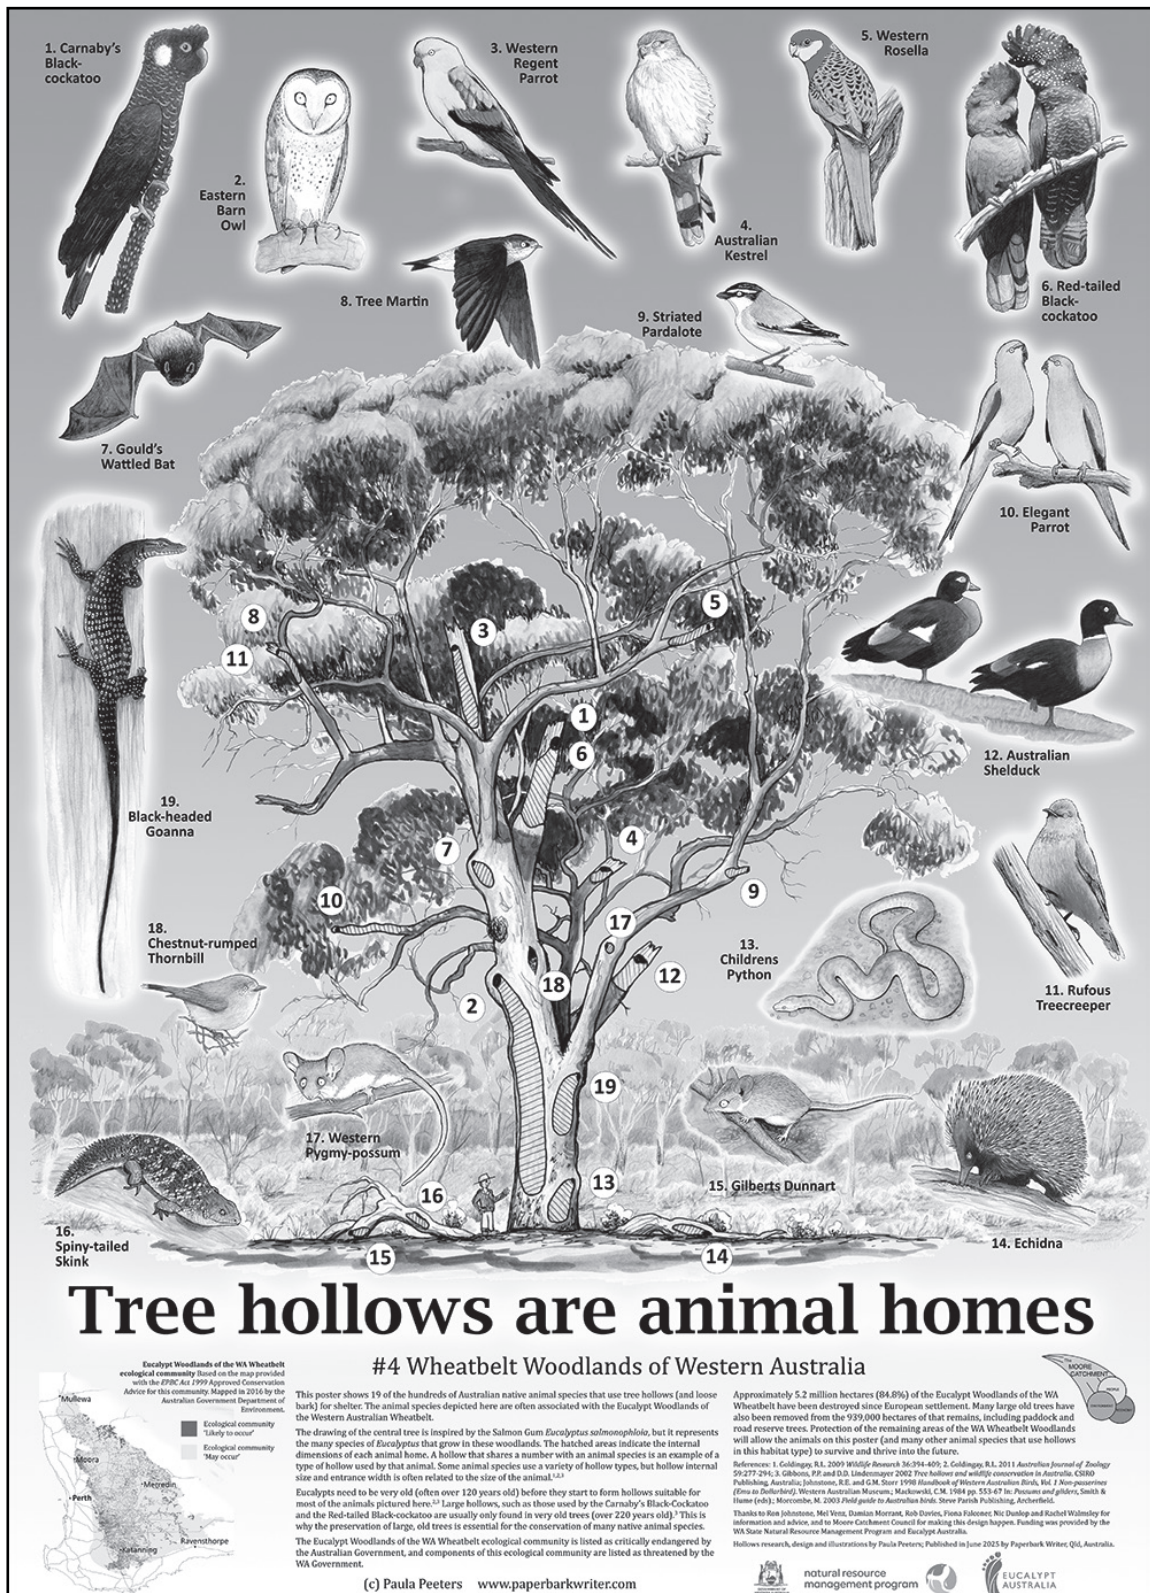

Colouring sheet #4a

Wheatbelt Woodlands of Western Australia
Selected birds, mammals and reptiles

(c) Paula Peeters www.paperbarkwriter.com

Get the complete poster in full colour! Use the QR code to download for free

- Types and sizes of hollows for each species based on the latest scientific data.
- Includes map of former and current extent of Eucalypt Woodlands of the WA Wheatbelt.

Download full colour
poster for free

