

Tree hollows are animal homes

These are just 9 of the hundreds of Australian native animal species that use tree hollows (and loose bark) for nesting and shelter.

Carnaby's
Black-cockatoo

Western Rosella

Rufous
Treecreeper

Elegant Parrot

Striated
Pardalote

Tree
Martin

Red-tailed Blackcockatoo

Australian
Shelduck

Chestnut-rumped Thornbill

Regent
Parrot

natural resource management program

Colouring sheet #4b

Wheatbelt Woodlands of Western Australia

Selected birds

(c) Paula Peeters www.paperbarkwriter.com

Get the complete poster in full colour! Use the QR code to download for free

- Types and sizes of hollows for each species based on the latest scientific data.
- Includes map of former and current extent of Eucalypt Woodlands of the WA Wheatbelt.

Download full colour poster for free

